SEND TWO MISSILES INTO SIDE WHILE PASSENGERS ARE AT LUNCHEON

Ship Goes to Bottom Within Half an Hour—Reports State No Warning Was Given—Rescue Boats of All Kinds Answer Wireless Call for Help—Many Survivors Are Landed at Queens-town.

BULLETIN.
LONDON, May 8.—(4:54 a. m.)—A Dublin despatch to the Exchange Telegraph company says that the latest reports indicate a loss of life on the Lusitania of about 1,000.

BULLETIN.
LONDON, May 8.—(4:42 a. m.)—The Times' London correspondent says that some of the survivors who have arrived there report that Alfred G. Vanderbilt was drowned.

BULLETIN.
QUEENSTOWN, May 8.—(4:36 a. m.)—Every effort to find Alfred Gwynn Vanderbilt and Charles Frohman among the survivors of the Lusitania landed here has failed.

BULLETIN.
LONDON, May 8.—(5:55 a. m.)—A statement issued by the British admiralty says the total number of survivors of the Lusitania is 658. It is believed that only a few first class passengers were saved as they thought the ship would remain afloat and made little effort to escape.

BULLETIN.
LONDON, May 8.—(5:45 a. m.)—The admiralty says that 595 survivors and forty dead from the Lusitania have been landed in Queens-town.

LONDON, May 8.—The Cunard liner Lusitania, which sailed out of New York last Saturday with more than 2,000 souls aboard, lies at the bottom of the ocean off the Irish coast. She was sunk by a German submarine, which sent two torpedoes crashing into her side, while the passengers, swimming confident that the great swift vessel could elude the German under water craft, were having luncheon. How many of the Lusitania's passengers and crew were rescued cannot be told at present, but the official statements from the British admiralty up to midnight accounted for not more than 500 or 600.

Bring Dead Ashore.
A ship's steward, who landed with others at Queenstown, gave it as his opinion that 900 persons were lost. There were dead and wounded among those brought ashore; some since have died. But not a name of rescued or lost, of dead or injured, has yet been listed.

The Lusitania was steaming along about ten miles off Old Head Kinsale on the last leg of her voyage to Liverpool, when about 2 o'clock in the afternoon a submarine suddenly appeared and so far as all reports go, fired two torpedoes without warning at the steamer. One struck her near the bows and the other in the engine room. The powerful agents of destruction tore through the vessel's side, causing terrific explosions. Almost immediately great volumes of water poured through the openings and the Lusitania listed.

Boats Speedily Filled.
Boats, which were already swung out on the davits, were dropped overboard and were speedily filled with passengers who had been appalled by the desperate attack. A wireless call for help was sent out and immediately rescue boats of all kinds were sent out both from the neighboring points along the coast and Queenstown.

But within fifteen minutes, as one survivor estimated and certainly within half an hour, the Lusitania had disappeared.

Where Great Britain's fastest merchant vessel went down—Old Head Kinsale—is a land mark that has brought joy to many travelers as it always stood as the sign from shore that the perils of the voyage across the Atlantic were at an end. The line, whose boats had been that it has never lost a passenger in the ship that dodged the lurking enemy off Nantucket light house the day after war was declared and later started the world by flying the stars and stripes.

The British admiralty is discouraging the publication of surmises and guesses regarding the dead and injured. Even before the crude details are known, the British press is asking editorially what the United States will say to this event and how she will hold Germany to the "strict accountability" mentioned in previous diplomatic correspondence.

Partial List of Survivors.
Washington, May 8.—A despatch to the state department early today from American Consul Lauriat at Queenstown, stated that the total number of survivors of the Lusitania was about seven hundred.

The consul's despatch gave a partial list of American survivors, but did not say definitely whether any Americans had been lost. Consul Lauriat's message said: "Total saved of all nationalities, 700. The following are American survivors of the Lusitania, other names will follow:

O. S. Crab, Major and Mrs. Pearl and two children; Mrs. Jessie Taft Smith, Charles C. Hardwick, Stuart D. Pearl, Arday Pearl, Mrs. Stanley L. B. Lines, C. T. Hill, Robert Rankin, Miss Loney, Mrs. William Doherty and infant, Thomas Phillips, William McAdams, J. H. Houghton, John M. Sweeney, Oaden H. Hammond, J. H. Brooks, Charles T. Jeffrey, Mrs. C. H. Lund, Arthur Sheppardson, Dr. D. V. Moore, Clinton Bernard, Herbert Light, J. Linsson, Edith Williams, James J. Leary, Thomas Sill, Mrs. John Wolfenden, Mrs. Nina Holland, George Kissler, Mrs. Thomas Mesh, George A. Kessler, L. L. McMurray, Robert Kay, R. R. Lockhart, Owen Cannon, Duricht C. Harris, Fred S. Judson, Ed. M. Collins, R. C. Wright, F. J. Gaundel, S. N. Knox, Patrick O'Donnell.

Eleven Land at Kinsale.
Kinsale, Ireland, May 8.—Eleven survivors of the Lusitania have been landed here, together with the bodies of five persons who were dead. Among the survivors are J. Preston Smith, New York; Frederick Bottomley, N. L. Boyle, Charles Hotchkiss, Cornelius Harriman, Verner Livermore and Mrs. F. Sullivan.

The survivors were taken to the military barracks and the bodies to the military morgue.

Charles E. Lauriat, Jr., Safe.
Boston, May 7.—Word of the safety of Charles E. Lauriat, Jr., of this city, a member of the firm of Charles E. Lauriat & Co., book-sellers, who was a first cabin passenger on the Lusitania, came in a cablegram to relatives received early this morning.

The message, dated at Queenstown 12:40 a. m., read simply: "Charles E. Lauriat, Jr., safe and well."

Should Refuse Passports.
London, May 8.—2:41 a. m.—Lusitania Commander Carlyon Bellairs, retired, who is now a member of parliament and a leading naval expert, said in an interview:

"Having regard for what has happened and may happen I feel that we ought to pass a law empowering British consuls to refuse passports, except for very sound reasons, to all neutrals to travel by British ships."

Waters Comparatively Shallow.
Washington, May 7.—Navy department charts show that the waters off Kinsale, where the Lusitania is reported to have sunk, are comparatively shallow, ranging from 120 to 200 feet in depth at a distance of nine or ten miles from shore. This, naval officers said tonight, ought to make possible the recovery of valuable property aboard the ship.

Beige Frohman's Offices.
New York, May 7.—Uncertainty as to the fate of Charles Frohman, probably the most widely known theatrical man in the world, who was a passenger on the Lusitania, was the topic among the theatrical world tonight.

Mr. Frohman's offices in the Empire theater building were besieged until a late hour for possible news from him and when told that there was none the inquirers sadly turned away.

Before sailing Mr. Frohman said he was going to England to look over his theatrical interests and to see if he could find some new plays for the American stage. Mr. Frohman went with him. Mr. Fro-man's latest addition to the American stage was the play called "The Hyphen," a play of American patriotism which elicited much unfavorable comment from citizens of German extraction. Mr. Klein, author of "The Lion and the Mouse" and other successes, was going to Europe on business connected with his enterprises.

Members of Mr. Frohman's staff said they had pleaded with him not to sail, but Mr. Frohman answered that business made it imperative that he go at that time.

In German clubs, restaurants and other places where Germans gather the news of the disaster was received quietly and generally without comment.

Roosevelt Makes Statement.
Syracuse, N. Y., May 7.—Theodore Roosevelt, after learning details of the sinking of the Lusitania late tonight, made this statement:

"This represents not merely piracy, but piracy on a vast scale of murder than any old time pirate ever practiced. This is the warfare which destroyed Louvain and Dintant and hundreds of men, women and children in Belgium. It was far against innocent men and children, traveling the ocean and to our fellow countrymen who are among the sufferers."

"It seems inconceivable that we can refrain from taking action in this matter for we owe it not only to humanity but to our own national self respect."

Says Sinking Was Justified.
New York, May 8.—Captain Franz Von Papen, military attaché of the Imperial German embassy, is quoted by the New York World this morning as making the following statement regarding the sinking of the Lusitania.

"It is deplorable, if true, that so many lives have been lost. I am shocked to hear the news, especially that American lives have been sacrificed."

"But it was absolutely criminal for the Cunard company to carry and for the British company to allow the line to carry neutral passengers in a ship which was transporting explosives and munitions of war, to be used by Great Britain and her allies."

"The ship's manifest will show that she carried a large amount of picric acid and other explosive materials. They certainly were not intended for peaceful uses. They were to be used against Germany and Germany had to defend herself against them. The best way was to destroy the ship and such destruction was amply justified under the rules of war."

POSTPONE OPENING OF ITALIAN PARLIAMENT TO MAY 20

Rome, May 7.—6:50 p. m.—The date for convening of the senate and the chamber of deputies has been postponed by royal decree until May 20. The original date set for the opening of parliament was May 12.

The situation is rapidly becoming more tense. The press considers that only a miracle now can keep Italy out of the war.

Deputy Ciriaco De Vito expressed the opinion that the action of the government indicated that a rupture of negotiations with Austria was not only certain, but imminent, and the belief is expressed in diplomatic circles that the Italian government, in view of the postponement of the date for convening parliament, desires to confront parliament with an accomplished fact.

King Victor Emmanuel, as early as eight o'clock this morning, was in consultation with the minister of war, General Zupelli, and an hour later Premier Salandra and Foreign Minister Sonnino went into consultation. Shortly afterward the secretary of the German ambassador, Prince Von Buelow, arrived with a letter, the nature of which has not been disclosed.

Finally a cabinet council was held at the ministry of the interior and continued for several hours.

IMPROVEMENT INCREASES ESTIMATE OF CROPS

Washington, May 7.—Rapid improvement in the winter wheat crops condition has increased the estimate of the ultimate output of the crop 74,000,000 bushels since the April estimate, the department of agriculture today reporting an anticipated production of 693,000,000 bushels based on the May 1 condition. That would be 1.2 per cent more than the record crop produced last year.

LIFTS QUARANTINE.

Washington, May 7.—An order issued by the department of agriculture today to become effective May 10 will entirely free New Hampshire from the livestock foot and mouth quarantine and modify restrictions in the quarantined areas of Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, West Virginia and Wisconsin. A small area in Illinois will be closed again.

RELATIVES BESIEGE CUNARD LINE OFFICES

SCENE RECALLS THOSE WHEN TITANIC SANK THREE YEARS AGO

Alfred G. Vanderbilt and Elbert Hubbard Among Those on Board Ill-fated Liner—Ship Carried a Large Quantity of War Supplies.

New York, May 7.—The first news of the torpedoing and sinking of the Cunard liner Lusitania came shortly after 1 p. m. today through an announcement from the local offices of the Cunard Line which stated that an unconfirmed rumor to that effect had been received from abroad. Less than an hour later the company made public additional messages confirming the report which, in the meantime, however, had been verified by newspaper despatches from London. Conflicting reports came in during the afternoon to the line and to news agencies in regard to the safety of the passengers but up to the early hours of the evening no definite information as to their fate had been received here.

Creates Tremendous Excitement.

The publication of the news created tremendous excitement in Wall street and there followed a violent decline in both the stock and cotton markets. Under an avalanche of selling orders which reached their greatest volume during the last hour of trading, stocks fell from 8 to 30 points and cotton $2.50 a bale. The so-called war stocks, like Bethlehem Steel, were especially affected.

The Lusitania with a total of 1251 passengers aboard, of whom 188 were Americans, and with a crew of 816, sailed from here last Saturday in the face of a warning published on the day of her departure by the German embassy, which stated that travelers intending to embark on British ships did so at the risk of the ships being destroyed in accordance with the German zone decrees.

Warnings Are Not Heeded

This warning published in the form of an advertisement, did not result in the cancellation of a single passage, nor did anonymous notes of warning, said to have been received by some passengers just before the big liner left her pier, deter anyone from sailing.

This afternoon and tonight anxious friends and relatives of the Lusitania's passengers besieged the offices of the Cunard Line and the scene recalled those at the offices of the White Star Line when the Titanic sank three years ago.

Several Notables on Board.

Officials of the Cunard Line announced tonight that they had received more than 500 telephone and telegraph inquiries relative to the safety of passengers. Telegrams were received from as far north as Montreal, as far south as Atlanta and as far west as St. Louis. Among the well known passengers on the Lusitania are Alfred Gwynn Vanderbilt, Charles T. Bowring, of New York, head of the firm of Bowring Brothers; Alexander Campbell, general manager for John Dewar & Sons, London; Elbert Hubbard, publisher of Philistine; D. A. Thomas, the wealthy Welsh coal operator and his daughter Lady Mackworth, an English suffragette, and the Rev. Basil W. Maturin, Oxford, England.

The Lusitania cargo was valued at about $750,000 and contained a large quantity of war supplies. Her manifest included 28,000 pounds of brass and copper wire, $66,000 of military goods, 5,471 cases of ammunition valued at $200,024, all of which was contraband of war.

Some of the Americans on Board.

Among the American first cabin passengers on board the Lusitania were:

Albert C. Billicke and wife, Los Angeles.
C. A. Dingwell, Chicago.
Charles Frohman and valet, New York.
Mr. and Mrs. Montague T. Grant, Chicago.
T. C. Jeffrey, Kenosha, Wis.
S. M. Knox, Philadelphia.
John W. McConnell, Memphis, Tenn.
Frederick J. Perry, Buffalo.
Albert N. Perry, Buffalo, N. Y.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Plamondon, Chicago.
Robert Rankin, New York.
Mr. and Mrs. Victor E. Shields, Cincinnati.
H. B. Sonneborn, Baltimore.
Mr. and Mrs. E. Blissh, Thomason, Indiana.
Albert G. Vanderbilt and valet, New York.
Mrs. Katherine E. Willey, Lake Forest, Ill.

SEEKS COMMUTATION.

Springfield, Ill., May 7.—Another effort to obtain a commutation of sentence for Peter VanVliessen, the Chicago forger, was made today by Clarence Darrow, an attorney, who had a conference with Governor Dunne. The governor refused early in March to commute the sentence. VanVliessen entered the Joliet penitentiary in 1908. His forgeries are said to have exceeded $160,000.

War News Summarized

Fighting of a sanguinary character still continues between the Russians and the Teutonic allies in Galicia and in the western and eastern Carpathians.

Vienna asserts that the Austro-Germans are now in the district of Pilsno and Jaslo, east of the Wisloka and that the Russians are still retreating pursued by the Teutons who are advancing across the Beskids.

In the eastern Carpathians, Vienna declares that the Austro-Germans are repulsing desperate Russian attacks and causing heavy losses. Petrograd says the fighting in Galicia between the Austro-Germans and the Carpathians has assumed the character of a great battle.

From Courland to the Carpathians both Berlin and Petrograd claim successes at various points.

Bad weather prevails on the western front and but little fighting has taken place there. Both the allies and the Germans report some gains or repulses of attacks.

In addition to the Lusitania, the German submarines have sent two other British steamers to the bottom off the Irish coast—the Candidate and the Centurion. The crews of both vessels were saved.

The opening of the Italian parliament, which had been set for May 12th, has been postponed by a royal decree to May 15th. Meanwhile the situation in Italy is said to be growing more intense and the newspapers express the opinion that only a miracle now can keep Italy out of the war.

Japan has waited points in her demands to China and China has announced that other proposals of the Tokio government will be accepted. This is considered as giving a bright aspect to the situation and as possibly averting a rupture.

MUST SHOW BARNES KNEW OF AND PROFITED BY ALLEGED WASTE

Justice Andrews Gives Ruling in Roosevelt Trial—Question of Printing to Come up Monday.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 7.—Justice Williams S. Andrews, presiding at the trial of William Barnes suit for libel against Theodore Roosevelt, ruled today that unless it be shown that Mr. Barnes actually knew of and profited by alleged extravagance and waste in the execution in Albany of orders for public printing, evidence upon that subject was incompetent. The proof according to the ruling of the court must be either circumstantial or direct and it must be shown that the waste and extravagance was brought about through his political influence.

Will Come Up Monday

The question of printing in general, would, it was said tonight, come up again on Monday. What counsel for Colonel Roosevelt represented to be a list of the commissions paid by the J. B. Lyon company to the Journal company during the nine years from 1903 to 1912 was read to the jury late today. The total of the sums read from the list was slightly in excess of $37,000.

The morning session of court was taken up solely by testimony and matters relating to what was claimed to be the printing situation in Albany. The greater part of the afternoon session was given over to arguments regarding the admissibility of the testimony on printing. During the argument Justice Andrews remarked that if Mr. Barnes held stock in the Lyon company that did not justify the inference that he knew whether dishonest bills were rendered or dishonest contracts were being made.

Argue on Question.

John M. Bowers, chief counsel for Colonel Roosevelt, argued at some length upon the question of printing. He touched upon the defendants' testimony and on the correspondence that has entered into the case.

CRISIS IN FAR EAST HAS BEEN AVERTED

JAPAN MODIFIES DEMANDS AND CHINA WILL ACCEPT THEM

Official Advice Are Received at Washington, D. C.—Expression of Opinion is Expected From United States, England, France and Russia.

Washington, May 7.—Official advice received here late today were to the effect that a crisis in the Far East has been averted, that Japan has modified her demands and that China will accept them.

Before the terms of the agreement are finally concluded however, an expression of opinion is expected by the United States from Great Britain, France and Russia as the allies of Japan, as to whether the interests which the leading powers have had in the maintenance of the territorial integrity of China or the open door policy have been in any way affected.

Seek Attitude of Powers.

The American ambassadors at London, Paris and Petrograd have been instructed to learn the attitude of the powers, which, like the United States, are pledged to maintain the territorial status quo in China and the freedom of commercial opportunity. Inasmuch as Japan and Germany are at war, the latter country was not consulted at this time but later may be included in the American government's correspondence on the question. Officials were silent as to the communications that had been sent abroad but it is known that it was desired before the negotiations were ended to consult the other powers in view of the peculiar relationship existing between them and the United States in connection with Chinese affairs.

Withdraw General Demands.

Secretary Bryan would not discuss this matter beyond saying the statement issued last night covered the American government's position. He announced, however, that today the state department had received the substance of the Japanese ultimatum and that it contained modification by Japan of her demands. It was generally understood that these modifications related to the withdrawal by Japan of the general demands in Group V, asking for the installation of Japanese political, financial and industrial advisers in China and an obligation by China to purchase fifty per cent of her ammunition supply in Japan.

Looked Upon as Threatening.

It was this group which had been looked upon in many quarters as threatening the political and administrative independence of China. The fact that originally Japan assured the United States that no intention existed on her part to violate China's sovereignty was recalled tonight. The suggestion was made in some quarters that Japan while including these demands in her list, never intended to force their acceptance but used them as a means of obtaining the special privileges in eastern Mongolia, Southern Manchuria and Shanghai which might have been difficult of attainment had they been proposed alone.

LEPER MAKES HIS ESCAPE FROM THE JAIL AT HIGHLAND PARK

Authorities of Chicago and Neighboring Cities are Notified to Make Every Effort to Apprehend Lunardi.

Springfield, May 7.—Angelo Lunardi, the leper who for the past three months has furnished a problem to federal, state and local authorities of Highland Park, escaped from the jail at Highland Park last night. This information was wired Secretary S. C. Drake of the state board of health today and Dr. Drake immediately notified the authorities of Chicago and neighboring cities to make every effort to apprehend Lunardi.

The fact that Lunardi was suffering from leprosy was ascertained in February and because he had recently been brought to this city on a North German Lloyd steamship from Italy the federal authorities ordered him deported. Because the steamship company had practically been put out of business by the European war it was impossible for them to comply with the order. The authorities of Highland Park were on the point of giving him his liberty when the state board of health's attention was called to the case and Lunardi was ordered held.

Last week, through arrangements with the state board of administration, steps were taken to have Lunardi placed in one of the state institutions for treatment where he was soon to have been transferred.

CONFERS WITH TRADE BOARD.

Washington, May 7.—Franklin county, Illinois, coal operators, who have formed a sort of clearing house for information of coal producers, informally conferred with the federal trade board today. This commission advised them it did not have authority to pass on the legality of the organization.

OFFICIALS AWAIT PROBE OF SINKING

Disposition of Washington is Not to Take Hasty Action

PLANNED TORPEDOING?

Information Leads to Belief Destruction of Lusitania Was Planned Several Weeks Ago

SENT ANONYMOUS WARNINGS

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Destruction of the British liner Lusitania with the loss of many lives shocked officials of the United States government and spread profound grief in the national capital. Although it was not known how many if any of those lost were Americans, the view was general that the most serious situation confronted the American government since the outbreak of the war in Europe.

President Makes No Comment.

The warning of the United States that Germany would be held to a strict accountability for the loss of "American lives" irrespective of whether they were aboard belligerent or neutral vessels when attacked, focused attention on the white house where President Wilson until late in the night read the dispatches with grave interest. The president made no comment.

Secretary Bryan, Counselor Lansing, senators and members of the house who were in the city waited up until a late hour for definite news of the passengers and crew of the ill-fated ship. Earlier in the day they construed the positive announcements from abroad that no lives had been lost as final but later advice dashed their hopes.

Await Admiralty Reports.

Officials said facts and circumstances would have to be obtained by careful investigation during the next few days before any announcements could be made by the American government. The disposition among high officials was not to take hasty action but to await the British admiralty's reports and results of the investigations of Ambassador Page. Although congress is not in session, Chairman Stone of the senate foreign relations committee and other members of the committee are now in the city. It is expected they will be consulted by President Wilson before he decides on the policy to be pursued by the United States.

The report that the Lusitania was torpedoed without warning created a profound sensation for it was the first case in which this threatened procedure has been carried out with Americans on board a belligerent vessel. Aside from the diplomatic questions in the case, which were widely discussed in Washington tonight, the sinking of the liner brought to light an interesting story of repeated threats and warnings which have reached high officials for several days past of a plan by the German admiralty to sink the Lusitania for the psychological effect it would have on Great Britain and the terror it might spread among ocean travelers generally.

Believe Sinking Was Planned.

Information gathered among officials of the government and in diplomatic quarters confirms the belief that plans for the destruction of the Lusitania were made several weeks ago. First, the German embassy was instructed to advertise in the leading newspapers of the United States warning passengers against traveling on belligerent ships. Anonymous warnings then were sent to individuals who proposed sailing on the Lusitania. Most significant of all were letters received here from officials in Germany by private persons stating that the Lusitania surely would be destroyed.

From the day the ship sailed from New York, official here have received inquiries from many sources almost daily as to the safety of the vessel. One official was told with much positiveness early today that this was the day selected for the destruction of the vessel. At the German embassy here, while no comment was made as to whether it was known there that the vessel was to be destroyed, it was said the embassy knew the Lusitania carried arms and ammunition and, being advised of the resolution of the German admiralty to attack ships that carried such contraband, officials had believed she would be attacked. At the embassy and among the diplomats friendly to the German allies there was a general satisfaction, amounting almost to relief, when reports came that no lives were lost. For it was urged that the purpose of the German submarine campaign was only to destroy British commerce and ships, but not lives. There was

What Japan Thinks of China.

Words uttered by Count Okuma, Japan's famous statesman and leader of thought, may throw light on how the Japanese regard their Chinese brethren and why they consider their neighbors inferior. "As means of communication develop, national differences will gradually tend to disappear," says Count Okuma, "and the successful nation of the future must effect a harmony between its own and the outside civilizations. The decline of China in recent years is a good example of this. It is not that the Chinese are essentially inferior to the European race, but their backward state is due to the fact that they did not strive to adapt themselves to the civilization of the outside world. A nation, like an individual, must always endeavor to make up its own defects by adopting the merits of another, and to display its strong points at the same time. Such a nation, and such a nation only, will be able to work upward to an advanced position in the world."

Millions of Years to Come.

George Otis Smith, director of the U. S. geological survey in a recent address at the University of Illinois made a plea for a search after scientific truth not simply for the sake of truth but for the possibility of benefiting mankind with this truth. He declared the belief among scientists that this earth is likely to be peopled for millions of years to come should create a willingness and a desire to build for posterity. He said:

"The most philosophic of American geologists, Professor Chamberlin, after studying exhaustively climatic conditions in the long geologic past and after weighing carefully the possibilities of disaster to our earth from collision with some star, has shown that we have good reason to measure the future habitability of the earth at millions or tens of millions, if not, indeed, hundreds of millions of years. Sharing Professor Chamberlin's inspiring belief in the probability of racial longevity, do we not gain a real incentive to scientific research into the great utilization of the forces of nature, an added argument for the application of the truths of science to civic progress, and a larger faith that the Golden Age is in the future—that the highest development of our country and of the world is to be witnessed by those who are to follow us? Are not our ideals practical and is not such a vision a call to larger service?"

Amusement and Health.

The $15,000 Kentucky Derby, to be run today at Churchill Downs, and which promises to be the greatest horse race ever run in America, will be a free treat to the public. Despite the great interest which the race has worked up in the world of horsemen, the public will have none of its privileges taken away, and the great center field will be thrown open. All business is at a standstill in and near Louisville, and a record attendance will view the Derby.

With free racing in Kentucky, free baseball at Decatur, near home, one gets the idea that the old Roman days of free sports for the people are coming again. Perhaps these instances are not examples, but it is true that during recent years a great awakening has come about in the United States of the need of recreation especially among children. Today we know that health recreation has much to do not only with health but with character and conduct. Play grounds, parks, and other recreation projects properly conducted are the greatest aids in the conflict with vice.

Sunday Will be Mother's Day.

Tomorrow will be observed throughout all civilized nations as "Mother's Day." Ever since President Wilson issued last year the first national "Mother's Day" proclamation, the idea has been taken up officially by many countries, and tomorrow the mothers, past and present, will be universally remembered. The day is observed by showing, through some distinct act of kindness, a visit, a letter, a gift or tribute, remembrance of the mother and father to whom affection is due. Mothers' Day is equally a Father's Day, and is designed to deepen and perpetuate all family ties.

The wearing of a white carnation is the outward form of showing recognition of the day. Churches of all denominations have taken up the theme, and motherhood is placed on the high pedestal where by right it should always remain. Few indeed, are the men who will not be urged on to better things by turning back memory's pages and thinking of the old home and of "mother."

Springfield, Ill., May 7.—Governor Dunne today approved house bill 340 (Igoe) making an emergency appropriation of $20,000 to meet the expense of returning to the state fugitives from justice.

WHAT WILL THE UNITED STATES DO?

(Extract from United States' recent note to Germany.)

"If the commanders of German vessels of war should act upon the presumption that the flag of the United States was not being used in good faith and should destroy upon the high seas an American vessel or the lives of American citizens it would be difficult to view the act in any other light than as an indefensible violation of neutral rights which it would be hard indeed to reconcile with the friendly relation now happily existing between the two governments."

"If such a deplorable situation should arise the Imperial German government can readily appreciate that the government of the United States should be constrained to hold the German government to strict accountability for such acts of their naval authorities and to take any steps that might be necessary to safeguard American lives and property and to secure to American citizens these full enjoyments of their acknowledged rights on the high seas."

The disposition "to withhold judgment" which government officials at Washington have manifested with reference to the sinking of the Lusitania, should apply to the nation. Thus far the reports of the torpedoing of the great vessel are necessarily meager and probably all of the facts will not be known for some days. Just at this time it looks as if Germany cannot explain away an act, clearly in violation of the rules of international warfare. If the Lusitania was torpedoed without warning, without giving the 2,067 persons who comprised the passenger list and crew opportunity to escape in life boats or to other vessels, it is not war but murder and Germany must answer not only to the United States but to the world.

The reports indicate that Germany had given warnings through newspaper advertisements and through letters to individuals of their intent to send the Lusitania to the bottom of the sea sometime during the trip on which the vessel was announced to sail last Saturday. It may be claimed that such notices were given repeatedly, that the citizens of the United States "took their lives in their hands" when they became passengers on the vessel. It may be claimed too that the known fact that the Lusitania carried copper wire and other war supplies in addition to ammunition changed the class of the vessel and made it properly subject to attack in the same manner that applies to battleships.

If the intent behind the act has been the desire of Germany to appeal England and to give evidence that the submarine campaign against her shipping and commerce can be carried on successfully, under the very shadow of English shores; to prove to England that a little time and she will no longer be the mistress of the sea, the purpose will fail. England will no doubt stand aghast, but whatever there has been of lethargy, whatever there has been lacking in patriotism will be aroused. All the bull dog tenacity that has ever been associated with British character will assert itself and once again Lord Nelson's famous phrase will find answer in every heart. "England expects every man to do his duty." A new bitterness will come to the European war, which even past horrors have not given it.

Yet there is this hopeful thought in the happening, that the sinking of the great vessel, impressing as it will the world with the fact that there are no longer combatants and non-combatants according to the old rules of warfare—may so inflame the spirit of humanitarianism which is slumbering, but still existent among all the civilized nations, that a great protest may go against the whole miserable war program, a protest so vigorous, so intense, that monarchs and leaders responsible may give ear and a movement for peace result.

Many Americans were on board the Lusitania. Weeks ago the United States government sent a specific warning to Germany that she would be held responsible for any sacrifice of American lives, either on belligerent or neutral craft.

Reports of the sinking of the vessel now indicate that Germany is responsible to the United States and if the honor of this nation is maintained must be held to "strict accountability."

Thus the situation as affecting this country is the gravest since the war began and what will the United States do?

Withholding judgment at this time until all the facts are known is not an easy task but is nevertheless a patriotic duty.

a disposition on the part of the Germans to inquire also whether the Lusitania carried any guns on her decks which might place her in the class of a warship and make unnecessary according to the laws of international warfare the giving of a warning.

The officials at the state department said they had not heard that the Lusitania carried any guns. At the British embassy it was revealed that early in the war after the United States government had been consulted on the question of small guns for the big liners, the advice was given by the state department and headed that no guns be carried on the decks.

The British embassy heard of the disaster through news despatches and offered no formal comment though officials stated the attack was absolutely inexcusable and constituted a most flagrant violation of all the rules of international law.

Did Not Admit Right.

When the German admiralty proclaimed the waters around Great Britain and Ireland a war zone and warned neutral vessels against the dangers that lay therein the United States did not admit Germany's right to place hazards in the way of American vessels or lives. There was no distinction drawn then as to whether the representations of the United States covered Americans traveling on belligerent or neutral craft, but officials informally disclosed later that the note had been purposely phrased so as to cover both contingencies.

The language of the American note was everywhere recalled tonight as a possible index of the policy to be pursued. The discussion at the time was particularly over the misuse of flags by belligerent vessels, the Lusitania itself having flown the American flag to escape attack from German submarines. The United States remonstrated with Great Britain over such use of the American flag and said at the same time in a note to Germany: "If the commanders of German vessels of war should act upon the presumption that the flag of the United States was not being used in good faith and should destroy upon the high seas an American vessel or the lives of American citizens it would be difficult to view the act in any other light than as an indefensible violation of neutral rights which it would be very hard indeed to reconcile with the friendly relations now happily subsisting between the two governments."

"If such a deplorable situation should arise the Imperial German government can readily appreciate that the government of the United States would be constrained to hold the German government to a strict accountability for such acts of their naval authorities and to take any steps that might be necessary to take to safeguard American lives, and property and to secure to American citizens these full enjoyments of their acknowledged rights on the high seas."

OREGON WATERWAYS CONVENTION.

Astoria, Ore., May 7.—As a climax of the Celilo canal celebration, which has been under way since Monday, the sixth annual convention of the Columbia and Snake Rivers Waterways Association was opened here today. The celebration of the canal opening, which began at Lewiston, Idaho, last Monday, has been conducted continuously, along the Columbia river, a flotilla of steamers transporting the guests of honor down to Astoria, at the mouth of the Columbia. Two days will be given over to the celebration, while the leaders in waterways development will discuss measures for further improvements. It is urged that the mouth of the Columbia be deepened to accommodate vessels of the deepest draught and many improvements will be suggested for the upper Columbia and its tributaries.

The opening of the Celilo canal is hailed as the signal for a big boom along the Columbia and Snake rivers, navigation now being opened to a point 500 miles from the Pacific.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY GIVEN

SUCCESSFUL PRESENTATION

"Pride and Prejudice" Staged at the Grand Opera House By Local Talent—Large Audience Applauded.

Another red letter date in the history of the Jacksonville high school will be May 7th, 1915 when the old English play, "Pride and Prejudice" was presented with such fine success at the Grand Opera House. First of all it should be said to the credit of the city that there was a very good sized audience present and also that it was quite appreciative.

The play is of the sterling English drama school, strong and solid and of 1796 times. As its name indicates it deals in the pride and prejudice of the people of that date; of the pride and prejudice manifested in the society of the times.

Human nature is well portrayed in the lines and the weakness of fashion's daughters and sons is strongly depicted. The young performers said their words plainly and could generally be heard in all parts of the house. The costumes were elegant and admirably suited to the characters who wore them. The stage dressing was fine and showed excellent taste in the arrangements.

Of course the first credit goes to the talented young managing director, Miss Frances Marie Scott, while all who assisted her did their parts admirably. The performance showed hard and careful study coupled with good ability and excellent taste.

The music by the high school orchestra was fine as a matter of course and won many compliments.

The following is the synopsis of the play:

MEDICAL INSPECTION
IN SPRINGFIELD SCHOOLS

Plan Followed in Capital City as Described in Survey Reports

The following article is taken from a survey of the public schools of Springfield as made by the division of education of the Russell Sage Foundation under the direction of Leonard P. Ayers, Ph. D.

Medical inspection is carried on in the Springfield public schools by one nurse who is employed by the board of education and given the title of supervisor of health. Her work in the schools consists of inspecting the children in each room for symptoms of contagious diseases and during the same visit making partial examinations for the detection of removable defects that might handicap the children either physically or mentally. Each school is provided with an emergency medical cabinet and each room has a card index file case for keeping the records of the physical examinations.

The physical examinations consist in the main of a careful but rapid search for symptoms of adenoid growth, enlarged tonsils, decayed teeth and eye defects. To assist in testing the vision of the children each school is provided with a set of Snellen test cards. An attempt is made to visit each school three times a year and considerable time and attention are devoted to visits to parents in order to secure their co-operation in providing medical attention for the children needing it.

The nurse makes a daily report of what she has done and each month she combines those in a more formal summary report to the superintendent.

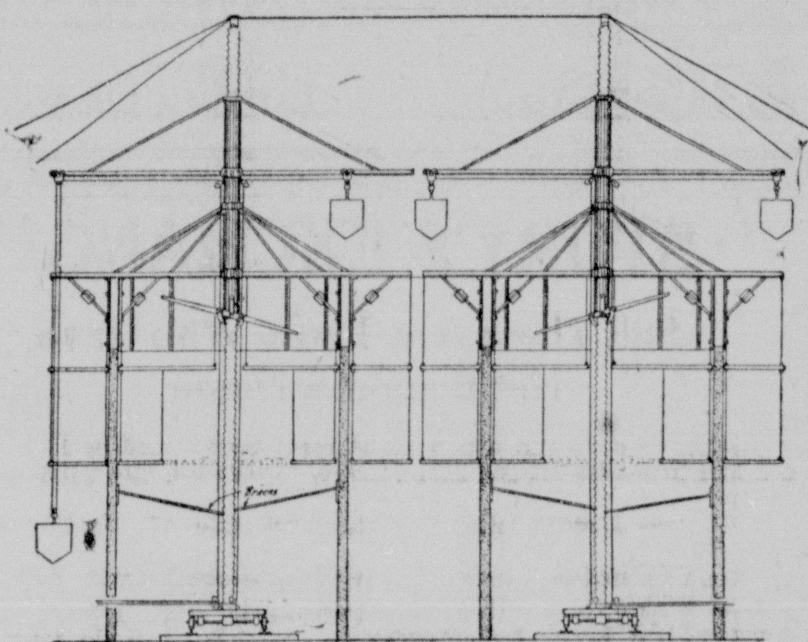

The only serious criticism of this work is that it does not go far enough. As it is conducted it is worth many times what it costs but it should be regarded merely as a beginning. The present nurse is entirely competent and thoroughly devoted to her work but it is impossible for one person to do thoroughly the amount of work she is attempting.

Springfield, with nearly 7000 children in its public schools, should have the full time services of at least two and preferably three nurses and in addition the half time services of a physician.

It is because this work is so extensive and so important that at least one additional nurse and the half time services of a competent physician should be secured to supplement the good work that is under way. Probably the most satisfactory way to secure the services of a competent physician would be to have the board of education co-operate with the board of health of the city in employing a municipal physician. Half of his time could be devoted to the duties of a school physician and half of his salary paid by the board of education. Such an arrangement would make possible the employment of a first class man and would materially raise the level of hygiene and sanitation throughout the city.

Rev. Edward Montgomery of Aurora, Ill. and Mrs. Mrs. Montgomery and son Harold of Hersman were in Jacksonville yesterday for the high school meet.

Winning eight firsts and breaking the discus throw and 220 yard dash, Jacksonville high fairly ran away with the honors in the 17th annual meet of the Western Illinois High School League on Illinois field Friday afternoon before a crowd estimated above a thousand. White Hall, winner of second place lacked 20 points of equalling J. H. S.'s mark and Beardstown came in third with 35 points. Bucheit of Beardstown broke the pole vault record and the 220 yard hurdle.

What appeared at first to be a rainy day turned out bright and clear by afternoon, although the threatening weather cut down the attendance from those out of the city. The crowd from Beardstown was the largest, four coaches being used to convey the students and friends here. The Illinois college officials handled the contest in splendid shape and considering the heavy rain on the track the meet was one of the fastest ever held in connection with the Western Illinois.

J. H. S. Takes Eight Firsts.

While it was conceded that Jacksonville would win first place, it was hoped out that Beardstown would be a close competitor and instead White Hall proved a good runner and nosed Beardstown out of second place by two points. The meet finally resolved itself into a race for second honors between the Cess county lads and White Hall. It is the first time in the history of the Western Illinois that one school got eight firsts, an honor coming to Jacksonville yesterday. Killebrew was not running in his usual form yesterday else he would have taken the 220 yard hurdle, being nosed out of this place by Bucheit by three feet. Jacksonville got more firsts than all the other schools combined.

Four Records Broken.

Meyer of Jacksonville made a wonderful throw in the discus, covering a distance of 118 feet 1 1/2 inches. The former record was 106 ft 9 in made by Sampson of Petersburg in 1906. Meyer also had no trouble in annexing the hammer throw. Hembrough ran a pretty half mile and was not pushed to his limit in the quarter mile run. Stribling of Ashtand was destined for the fifty yard dash. H. Reynolds who lowered the record on the 220 yard dash by 4-5 of a second beat the time set by R. Strawn of Jacksonville in 1912 who made the distance in 24 sec. Reynolds also lacked but 3 inches in calling the distance record of 21 feet in the running broad jump established by Smith of Jacksonville in 1902. Bucheit went after a record in the pole vault and beat the mark of Cannon of Jacksonville in 1912, 10 ft 7 1/4 inches, by one half inch. In his home town Bucheit has vaulted 11 ft 2 in. Caswell of Ashtand showed up well in the pole vault.

Bucheit made the 220 yard hurdles in 27-5 thus lowering the record set by Cannon of Jacksonville in 1913 who made the time in 27-5 sec. Jacksonville got a poor start in the relay race and White Hall won although the finish was so close that the judges had their heads together sometime before the announcement was made. Greenville, Tallula and Virginia failed to score a point.

IDENTITY RESTORED AFTER TWO YEARS' LAPSE

Milwaukee, Wis., May 7.—Two years ago today, Frank Van Wie fell from the roof of a building in Milwaukee. Since that time he wandered, his identity entirely lost to him, until ten days ago, when a doctor snapped back into place two small vertebrae in the back of his neck. Van Wie is now seeking the girl he was to have married on May 24, 1913, and this is the first repatriation he is making since he recovered his normal mind in Kenosha on April 27. All of his past history is clear to him except the events of the past two years. He remembers the fall, and that the doctors had said he broke a rib or two.

JACKSONVILLE RATE HEARING AGAIN.

Formal notices have been sent out by the state utilities commission that a further hearing of the Jacksonville light and gas rate case will be had at the office of the commission commencing next Monday morning at 10 o'clock. At this time it is the purpose of the commission to introduce further testimony and it is understood that the financial side of the matter will be presented. The value given the company as a going concern will probably be stated, and figures will be presented relative to the stock and bonded indebtedness.

BOOTLEGER IS FINED.

In the county court Jesse Reavis appeared and entered a plea of guilty to two counts of the indictment against him for bootlegging. Judge Thomson assessed a fine of thirty days and $60 in costs on each of the two counts, and the remaining counts were dismissed. As Reavis is said to have little money he will likely be in jail for a period of nearly five months laying out the sentence fine and costs. This is the first time he has been convicted.

AMERICAN PEACE SOCIETY MEETS

Washington, May 7.—The 8th annual meeting of the American Peace Society will be held today at the Hotel Raleigh. Many prominent peace advocates from all sections of the country have arrived for the meeting, and many local societies in the various states are represented. U. S. Senator Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, president of the society, will preside. A general secretary will be elected to succeed Dr. Benjamin Trueblood.

MR. ROGERSON RETURNS.

George S. Rogerson has returned from North Dakota where he accompanied his sister, Mrs. Bradley of Champaign, on account of the serious illness of their sister, Mrs. Sarah Russell, who recently suffered a stroke of paralysis. When they left Mrs. Russell her condition was somewhat improved, but the change was not one to warrant any great feeling of encouragement.

AROUND HOME

Killing Mad Dogs.

Because of the prevalence of hydrophobia over fifty dogs have been killed at Ava. Sol Brue and Mrs. W. S. Smyser were attacked by dogs, while the small son of Collie Vanover was bitten by a pig that was affected with rabies. The victims were rushed to St. Louis for treatment and all will probably recover.

Fast Mile Runner.

Floyd Ritter, Normal High's star miler, will compete in the annual interscholastic track meet held under the auspices of the University of Illinois on Saturday, May 15. Ritter is good for better than 4:40, as was shown in the Corn Belt meet held at Bloomington last week.

Was Electrocuted.

San Francisco Wins.

By a majority of nearly 1,000 votes San Francisco was awarded the fortieth annual meeting of the American Poultry association, to be held in November. Over 2,000 votes were cast by mail. Detroit was the only competitor for the meeting. E. E. Richards, Cedar Rapids, Ia., was elected president. Other officers are: A. A. Peters, Denver, Colo., and Joseph Russell, Toronto, Ont., vice presidents and S. T. Campbell, Mansfield, Ohio, secretary.

Leaves Church $500.

By the will of the late Miss Hattie Shepherd, one of the oldest members of the Christian church in Girard, $500 was left to the trustees of that denomination, to be kept as a distinct fund, and interest collected annually for the use of the church, the principal not to be disturbed.

Had Narrow Escape.

Carl Eckert and Rollo Rexroat of Virginia had a narrow escape from death Sunday when the car they were driving skidded off a bridge on the Chandeville road, pinning both under the machine in the cold waters of a creek. Eckert finally managed to extricate himself, but could not release his companion. Propping Rexroat's head up out of water, he ran a mile to the nearest farm house, making record time back to the scene with a relief party.

Trouble for Warsaw Saloons.

The future for the saloons of Warsaw is not bright. Each saloonkeeper has been furnished with a list of 4 men who are habitual drunkards and also a warning from the mayor to not sell or give any liquor to the men named or to any other drunkard, whether mentioned in the list or not. They were also warned not to sell or harbor any minors.

A Kissless Woman.

A kissless married life has so pained upon Mrs. Eugenia Anderson, 19 years old, for seven months wife of the Rev. Arthur R. Anderson, pastor of the Christian church of Granite City, that she has returned to her mother's home in St. Louis. She says she does not wish to be divorced and would be glad to return to her husband if he would only be affectionate. She says that in the last two months her husband only kissed her once and half-heartedly on her cheek. She said he once remarked in her hearing that he did not believe in kissing and hugging. "But he believed in it before we were married," she declared.

Joliet Herald: Henry Ford of automobile fame once lived in Will county in the days of the early 80's, when he was employed as a farm hand by the late John Boylan of Spencer. ### BLOOMINGTON BELIEVES IN ONE MAN HEALTH DEPARTMENT

McLean County Medical Society Goes On Record in Favor of This Plan—Action in Other Cities Quoted.

In view of the fact that Jacksonville is now agitating a new health department the following resolution adopted Thursday by the McLean County Medical society and printed in the Pantagraph will be of interest here. The Bloomington physicians are in favor of a one man health department and state that the same opinion prevails in Springfield, Peoria, Decatur and other Illinois cities.

The Resolution.

"Whereas, the city of Bloomington is entering upon a new form of municipal government, and

"Whereas, the idea is that efficiency in all departments will be the only thing that the people will tolerate; and

"Whereas, the health department of any municipality is among the most essential of all of its departments; therefore be it

"Resolved, That the McLean County Medical Society at its regular meeting go on record for the following modern requirements pertaining to the city's health and sanitation: First, that as a society, let it be known that this society has never before in its long history made any recommendations whatsoever to either the former city council or to the present board of commissioners, with reference to the appointing of either a board of health composed of members of the society, or of a single individual, all talk to this end being contrary to the records of this society. But now the time has come when we as members, being more vitally interested and better informed than any other organization of this city, deem it our duty, in view of the proceedings of the commissioners, to assert what we think should be the plan of procedure of the commissioner who assumes the head of the health department of this city.

"First, this society goes on record as being against a board of health composed of a number of doctors. We believe that for the sake of efficiency and in order to fasten responsibility, that the health commissioner should be one competent doctor, who has had experience in matters of public health and municipal sanitation; that he should have as his assistant at least two sanitary police every day of the year.

"Second, that the city of Bloomington should maintain in connection with its health department, a laboratory where bacteriological and chemical tests could be made of milk, meat, water, candy, ice cream and such other foods as the city's health requires, also in doubtful cases to render a rapid and positive finding of cases of doubtful contagion.

"Third, that this department should be adequately paid for the service rendered to the city.

"This society wishes to go on record in desiring these above named requirements. Our sister cities, Decatur, Peoria, Springfield and other progressive cities have either adopted the above or are about to do so at the earliest moment. Bloomington needs a progressive health department, which it never has had, and from its present outlined policy it is not liable to get."

A LINCOLN LEGEND.

By Charlotte Jordan.

"The farmers in central Illinois claim that the brown thrush did not sing for a year after he died."—From Nicolay and Hay's Life of Abraham Lincoln.

Just fifty years ago today

The brown thrush checked its liquid song! How could

It trill its roundelay when one who loved

All helpless things lay mute and cold? When hands

Which oft had raised the fallen

fledglings up

And placed them gently back in their home nest

Were smitten down; forever stilled!

Not for

A year, the legends say, did throats

sing

Again. Then o'er the hushed and mourning world

They poured their carols forth once more as though

Rejoicing that the spirit dawn, for

Their comrade hourly prayed, had broken o'er

The stricken earth. Time's healing touch but more

Endeared that tender, all-compassionate heart.

Whose deathless fame is now become world wide,

As universal as the air, as high

And deeply rooted as the rugged hills.

Abraham Lincoln—Died April 15,

1865.

Semi-centenary of his death April 15, 1915.

FIFTY YEARS AGO.

In reading the experiences of the different persons who witnessed the scenes that attended the funeral of the immortal Lincoln in Springfield fifty years ago, the 4th, brings vividly to my mind what I saw on that memorable day," said R. E. Petham yesterday.

"I was the youngest of five boys and all of my brothers were in the army at that time, so I was the only one at home with my mother and two sisters, living twelve miles northwest of Springfield in the little country village of Salisbury. I cannot recall the trip to the capital, but will remember the soldiers as they were formed on each side of Washington street, on the north side of the square, and no one was permitted to pass along the street, but a solid procession was passing from the north walk on Washington street to and through the state house and out at the south entrance and across Adams street. I am not sure but I think that there was a double line of soldiers on the four sides of the square. From some cause, I do not remember, but I waited while mother passed through with the crowd. I can remember how she was affected. I think that she was personally acquainted with Lincoln; I know that she was with his old law partner, Mr. Herndon.

"We lived in the edge of the little town on the main street that led to Springfield, and about 2 o'clock in the afternoon of the day after Lincoln's assassination I was in the yard when I saw a man as he came over the hill some three hundred yards east of the house, with his hat in his hand urging his horse along, which was covered with foam. As he came up even with me he yelled out with an oath, 'Old Abe Lincoln is shot!' I ran in and told mother, then hurried up town and found perhaps a dozen men gathered in front of the saloon, where he was giving them the news. Then fol-

Boy or Girl? Great Question!

This brings to many minds an old and tried family remedy—an external application known as "Mother's Friend." During the period of expectancy it is applied to the abdominal muscles and is designed to soothe the intricate network of nerves involved. In this manner it has such a splendid influence as to justify its use in all cases of coming motherhood. It has been generally recommended for years and years and those who have used it speak in highest praise of the immense relief it affords. Particularly do these knowing mothers speak of the absence of morning sickness, absence of strain on the ligaments and freedom from those many other distresses which are usually looked forward to with so much concern.

There is no question but what "Mother's Friend" has a marked tendency to relieve the mind and this of itself in addition to the physical relief has given it a very wide popularity among women. It is absolutely safe to use, renders the skin pliable, is penetrating in its nature and is composed of those embrocations best suited to thoroughly lubricate the nerves, muscles, tendons and ligaments involved.

You can obtain "Mother's Friend" at almost any drug store. The regular price is $1.00 a bottle.

It is prepared only by Bradford Regulator Co., 501 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Avoid the many worthless substitutes. It should be remembered that what is said of "Mother's Friend" is the thought expressed by the thousands of women who have used it.

THE MOON

The moon gets full, and men don't care; it isn't charged with sorrow; there is no stellar cop up there, to run the jingled moonlits in.

The organ of the Milky Way has no reporter flip, to write, and in police court diction say, "The moon was full again last night." What though the moon, at every chance, falls off celestial water carts? It fills the night world with romance and freshens up our jaded hearts. Beneath the moon the lovers walk, and pour their vows in happy ears; the sun will never hear such talk, though it may shine a million years. Beneath the moon the old men dream of bygone struggles, loves and cares; in all the years no solar gleam will stir up tender thoughts like theirs. The daytime landmarks disappear when Luna her effulgence sends; beneath the moon one seems to hear the voices of his long dead friends. The ghostly shadows float and play like elves in an enchanted land, and worldly things seem far away, and mystic things seem close at hand. And so I love the moonlit night, when every glade has fairy rings; for I've grown weary of the fight that every garish morning brings.

CODDLING THE STOMACH.

The So-Called "Scientific" Feeding.

In this 20th century of advancement, people are too apt to listen to new theories and put into practice new-fangled notions of feeding. Not only do adults follow so-called "scientific systems", but they cram down the mouths of their children such scientific soft foods that require no exercise of the digestive organs, and the children are apt to become fragile and their stomachs too weak to take in strength-giving food and to be able to assimilate it. This is a hazardous condition that no man, woman or child should permit. The muscles of the stomach require exercise just as any other muscles of the body; neglect them with too much ease and inaction and you raise a dyspeptic. Use a tonic made of medicinal herbs which will stimulate the stomach into greater activity—a remedy which will do this is one which has stood the test of public approval for over forty years, containing no alcohol or narcotic. We refer to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It arouses the little muscular fibres into activity and causes the gastric juices to thoroughly mix with the food you eat, simply because it supplies the stomach with pure, rich blood. It's weak, impure blood that causes stomach weakness. Get good blood through the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you will have no more indigestion.

Sick people are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential.

Know Thyself.
Read all about yourself, your system, the physiology of life, anatomy, hygiene, simple home cures, etc., in the "Common Sense Medical Adviser," a book of 1005 pages. Send to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 3 dimes (or stamps) for a cloth-bound copy.—Advertisement.

WE take pleasure in informing the ladies of our community that we have been successful in securing the services of Mr. F. H. Foster, special organizer for the Detroit Jewel Gas Range Clubs, who will be at our office and salesrooms Monday and Tuesday, May 10 and 11, for the purpose of furthering the organization of the local club recently begun.

Every woman in Jacksonville is cordially invited to call at our office on the dates mentioned and learn the purposes of the organization, which briefly stated are as follows.

To interest housewives in the best and most scientific methods of housekeeping.

To make it possible for housewives of this community to obtain the advantages of a practical course in Domestic Science, that will help to reduce the high cost of living and make "home keeping more interesting."

To admit of securing the latest type of modern cooking utensils, and a new style of labor saving cabinet gas ranges on the most attractive basis ever offered.

In short—to apply to the work of the home, the same standards of efficiency which are applied to the office or the factory.

This Is Something That Every Women Is Interested In

LIBRARY DIRECTORS HELD REGULAR SESSION FRIDAY

Miss Katherine Lewis Engaged as Children's Librarian—Number of Book Borrowers Show Large Increase.

A meeting of the directors of the public library was held Friday afternoon. In the absence of the president, Dr. Carl E. Black, the vice-president of the board, Rev. J. W. Crowe, presided. The board is contemplating a number of betterments in the interior of the building, and the committee appointed recently to secure estimate on the proposed work was granted further time. At the suggestion of the librarian, Miss Katherine Lewis of Chicago was engaged as children's librarian to fill the vacancy made by the recent resignation of Miss Ruth McLaughlin. Miss Lewis was here several months since, doing library work as a part of her course at the University of Illinois library school. The practice there is to send pupils into libraries for a month of actual training, and Miss Lewis while here made a very favorable impression.

The monthly report made by Miss Barrette, librarian, showed that the total number of books taken out during April was 1,053 greater than in the same month in 1914. During the month 59 borrowers' cards were issued, 53 of the number to adults. Comment was made in the report on the fact that 59 per cent. of the books borrowed were fiction, which is 2 per cent less than a year ago and considerably less than the average shown in libraries throughout the state. The books borrowed were classified as follows: general, 7; bound periodicals, 27; philanthropy, 42; religious, 51; sociology, 236; language, 6; science, 116; useful arts, 101; fine arts, 127; literature, 299; history, 148; travel, 134; biography, 105; fiction, 2,379; current magazines, 229, a total of 4,487.

BARACA-PHILATHEA CONVENTION IN FLORIDA

Aracadia, Fla., May 7.—The Baracas and Philatheas of Florida have come in record-breaking numbers to the annual convention of the Baraca Philathea Union of Florida, which opened here today. A program for three days has been arranged, and the event is hailed as the biggest and best state convention yet held by the Union. The Jacksonville and Tampa delegations are making a spirited fight for the 1916 meeting.

PROBATE COURT

In the matter of the guardianship of Ralph C. Curtis the report was approved.

In the estate of James Wood, deceased, letters testamentary were ordered to issue to James B. Beckman, Richard Wood and Iven Wood.

The final report of the guardian of Cecil Munis was approved and the guardian was discharged.

In the estate of Mary E. Alexander, deceased, the final report was approved.

The report filed by the guardian of Ruby K. Dodsworth was approved.

In the estate of William Woellner, the inventory and report filed were approved.

In the estate of Llewellyn Davies, deceased, a motion was made by Nigler & Gordley, attorneys, asking the court to set aside a previous order for want of notice. Some time ago A. C. Rice, as administrator of the estate, was granted authority to sell real estate to pay debts. Subsequently Nigler & Gordley and other attorneys came into court with a petition asking that this order and decree be set aside. Judge Thomson denied the motion and one for appeal to appellate court was allowed. Before this formal order had been drawn in the petition to set it aside was made and allowed. As the case now stands, the sale of real estate has been authorized and the motion made on behalf of the heirs to dismiss the petition asking for authority to set it aside is on file with no order entered with reference to it. The whole point in the proceedings seems to be as to whether or not after an order granting an administrator authority to sell has been made at one time, it can be opened up at the succeeding term. The probate court opens on the first Monday in each month and is formally closed on the last Saturday before the first Monday of the following month.

UNDERCURRENTS OF TRADE RUN IN A FAVORABLE DIRECTION

Outstanding Factors Indicate That Industry Has Made Further Progress.

New York, May 7.—Bradstreet's will say tomorrow: "Undercurrents run in a favorable direction, though trends in certain lines and some sections, affected either by weather conditions or marked dependence on a particular commodity, still lag. But by and large the outstanding factors indicate that industry has made further progress; steel mills are operating at close to 75 per cent of capacity; buying of pig iron, helped by speculative purchases has spread, plants making war supplies are pushed to the utmost; additional export orders of magnitude are pending; unemployment is decreasing; scarcity of labor exists in the machine tool and automobile trades, the railways seem to be more hopeful; distribution of essential commodities, though checked here and there by vagaries of the weather, are growing; there is a stronger disposition to order ahead; buying of dry goods is probably larger than at this time last year; lumber shows irregular improvement; cereal crop prospects are excellent; traveling salesmen report that wheat growers are in fine financial shape; collections are better and this week's bank clearings of record proportions, are reported at $4,196,715,000, an increase of 29.4 per cent over last week and 21.8 last year. Money is easy."

DECLAMATION HONORS WON BY PITTSFIELD

MISS LUCY WETZEL FIRST IN SPEAKING CONTEST.

Winchester is Second and Beardstown Third, While Virginia and Tallula Tie for Fourth Place—League Holds Business Session—Meet Here Next Year.

A fairly good sized audience gathered in the David Prince school building to enjoy the declamatory contest between representatives of the ten high schools represented in the western Illinois league.

The awards were:
Pittsfield, first.
Winchester, second.
Beardstown, third.
Virginia and Tallula, tied for fourth.

A very annoying delay was caused by the failure of Prof. L. R. Sarett of Urbana to appear. The audience was kept waiting something more than half an hour in great impatience while the groups representing the respective schools put in the time one after another in giving the class yell and keeping up the spirits of the contestants and they many a time made the welkin ring with their shouts and calls.

It is certainly to be hoped that Prof. Sarett has a good excuse for not being present but it is hard to see how he can be excusable for not sending a telegram announcing the fact of his inability to be here if such an inability existed.

Once on a similar occasion in this city it transpired that an expected judge actually forgot the engagement he had made.

It was decided to go on with two judges, E. Judson Shurtz of Decatur and Miss Louise Griswold of Springfield.

The contestants and their themes were:
Ella Lundberg of Greenview—"The Sylvia Whitlock of White Hall."
"The Going of the White Swan."
Elmore Galley of Ashland—"Ole Mistsis."
Lucy Wetzel of Pittsfield—"As the Moon Rose."
Mildred Sowers of Tallula—"The Master's Violin."
Helen Harney of Jacksonville—"Her First Appearance."
Luelle Kirby of Petersburg—"Mary's Night Ride."
Bessie Martin of Beardstown—"The Soul of the Violin."
Nylene Prewitt of Winchester—"Little Gentleman."
Mary Jane Trueman of Virginia—"How the LaRue Stakes Were Won."

All the young contestants did most admirably and the decision was no easy matter. It was truly a source of surprise to many conversant with all the facts that Miss Helen Harney, the representative from Jacksonville, failed to stand higher in the estimation of the judges when she ranked so well on previous occasions with the same subject. The young lady is an easy, graceful speaker and on this occasion did as well as previously. However, all cannot win and the judges doubtless did their best to award the prizes conscientiously.

All the speakers showed careful training and though some of the selections were rather long not one faltered a moment from lack of memory.

Business Session.

While the speaking was in progress a business session of the league was held at the David Prince school. It was voted to hold the meet next year in Jacksonville and the date of the same is to be determined by the president and secretary. This question was brought up as the result of a communication from President Rammelkamp, who wished an arrangement to be made whereby the W. I. H. S. L. meet would come before the Illinois college interscholastic meet. The management appreciated the use of the David Prince school, which netted the league a saving of $40. Ashland asked to enter a man in the shot put, but the rules of the league would not allow it. There was some discussion of doing away with the 50-yard dash, the standing broad jump and the discus throw, substituting the javelin in place of the discus, but no action was taken on the matter. It was also talked over as to the advisability of making the constitution so read that more schools could be admitted into the league.

Supt. H. R. Russell of Beardstown was re-elected president and the principal of the Jacksonville High school always acts as secretary and treasurer. As the office of principal of the public schools has been dispensed with, some other arrangements will have to be made.
